

Insurance companies make promises to cover the costs and liabilities that consumers incur related to healthcare, automobile accidents, and many other things. However, insurance companies sometimes adopt deceptive, unfair, and otherwise illegal business practices that they use to avoid fulfilling the full scope of their insurance obligations. Sound Justice Law Group strives to help consumers by holding insurance companies accountable for wrongful business practices. If you are in a dispute with an insurance company, please contact Sound Justice to schedule a consultation with an attorney.